

David Sanda, Client Executive Manager, Verizon Application Management Service Delivery

David Sanda has served in various technical capacities in his 9 year career with the Verizon Application Management Service Delivery organization. In this time David has led launch teams for several large E-Commerce clients providing technical leadership for the optimization of these internet properties. David currently manages a team of individuals supporting the on-going management and performance optimization services Verizon provides to some of the largest on-line retailers in the industry.